

An aerial photograph of a coastal vineyard. In the foreground, a terraced vineyard with rows of green vines slopes down towards a dense forest of tall, dark green trees. To the right, a rocky coastline meets the sea. The water is a vibrant turquoise near the shore, transitioning to a deep blue further out. A small, sandy beach is visible on the left side of the frame. The overall scene is bright and sunny, with clear skies and lush vegetation.

An aerial photograph of a Mediterranean coastline. The top half shows the dark blue sea with white foam from waves crashing against a rocky shore. Below the rocks is a large, dense, bright green tree. The bottom half of the image shows a dirt road or path winding through a vineyard, with long shadows cast by the vines. The text "WHITE WINE, THE OTHER COLOR OF THE MEDITERRANEAN" is overlaid in white, bold, sans-serif capital letters across the middle of the image.
